

John Hart gala and book signing at Literary Bookpost (Salisbury Post)

Contributed by Webmaster
Monday, 17 September 2007
Last Updated Monday, 17 September 2007

The official national release date for John Hart's new novel, "Down River," is set for Tuesday, Oct. 2. Literary Bookpost, Hart's "home" bookshop, will host a gala wine and cheese reception and kick-off marathon book signing with Hart beginning at 5 p.m. and continuing until 9 p.m.

{mos_sb_discuss:2}

It's moving day for book reviews (Contra Costa Times)

Where, oh where has The Book Review gone? If you're scratching your head over the mysterious disappearance of our third books page from the back of today's A&E section, don't think for a minute we are abandoning our literary leanings in favor of watching more TV.

Book Review (Worcester Telegram & Gazette)

The first time I met Robert Mondavi and his children, in the 1970s, a minor family disagreement over lunch at their state-of-the-art Napa Valley winery quickly escalated into a shouting match. At the time it made a far bigger impression on me than their suave, cutting-edge cabernets.

Young Adult Books

{mos_sb_discuss:2}

Book Reviews