

Bitter Tastes

By Victoria Rosendahl

Reviewed by Ritabella, age 8 I liked the book Bitter Tastes by Victoria Rosendahl. It's about two girls, Kathy and Martha, who try to find out who killed Kathy's friend Janine. Janine owned a restaurant in their town and taught a cooking class that Kathy was in. It was an exciting and cool book. I like books about solving mysteries. Kathy and Martha seemed like girls I would like to know, and Kathy's disability made me feel sympathy for how she felt - like not wanting the other kids to know. I can't wait for the next book about Kathy and Martha and their adventures!
